

FOUNTAS AND PINNELL'S LEVELED LITERACY INTERVENTION INTERMEDIATE & PRIMARY: RESOURCE TRAINING

This Heinemann Professional Development is designed to give participants an in depth understanding of the LLI Systems and includes three full days of training (two days of intensive learning plus one follow-up day in the fall). Participants must attend all 3 days of training.

- This training will be conducted by a Fountas and Pinnell trained consultant.
- Participants must have access to the Leveled Literacy Intervention resource.

PRIMARY:

In addition to an overview of the components and implementation of new LLI Orange, Green, and Blue systems, professional development for these systems delves in to the advanced routines needed for intermediate students. Topics within the three-day Professional Support curriculum include: overview of the lesson framework, understanding the demands of texts, assessing and grouping students, teaching within the LLI Lessons, using the prompting guide, and documenting progress. In addition to learning how to implement LLI Lessons, participants will deepen their understanding of many research-based techniques to help struggling readers make accelerated progress.

INTERMEDIATE:

In addition to an overview of the components and implementation of new LLI Red, Gold, and Purple systems, professional development for these systems delves in to the advanced routines needed for intermediate students. These routines include a focus on comprehension, vocabulary development, and fluency as well as phonics and word study principles, book discussion formats, writing about reading routines, novel study units, test taking study, and silent reading. Special attention will be dedicated on what the research has shown to be effective instruction for older, struggling readers and clear rationales for instruction procedures within LLI.
