Supporting ALL Teachers of ELs

As an administrator or instructional coach, are you able to provide specific feedback to all teachers of ELs to help them grow professionally and increase their academic performance?

Are you confident about your own understanding of best practices related to the instruction of ELs and know what to look for when visiting classrooms and providing coaching support?

This session is tailored to administrators and instructional coaches that will provide practical explanations and applications of the following:

- The four principles for inclusive teacher evaluation of diverse learners that are compatible with the Danielson and Marzano frameworks
- Sample specialized “look-fors” that supervisors, evaluators and instructional coaches can use and adapt to recognize effective teaching of ELs and students with disabilities
- Strategies for coaching teachers of ELs and students with disabilities who need more support reaching these learners
